MUSICA BALTICA, 2026

It is advised by the arranger and the composer to consult the score of the original version of this work (Musica Baltica, MB1690), as well as listen to the Gidon Kremer / Kremerata Baltica (Nonesuch Records 2010) recording of the original version of this work, to glean insights about the phrasing, articulations and dynamics, since these constitute the primary sources of Zariņš' arrangement. A secondary source is Zariņš' recording of this arrangement featured on his album "Undulations" (SKANi 2026). The composer Georg Pelēcis has written about the genesis of his work, "Flowering Jasmine" in the digital version of the accompanying booklet to the "Undulations" album and is available on skani.lv.

Komponists un aranžētājs iesaka šīs aranžijas interpretiem iepazīties ar "Plaukstošā jasmīna" oriģinālversijas partitūru (Musica Baltica, MB1690), kā arī ar Gidona Krēmera / Kremerata Baltica interpretāciju (Nonesuch Records 2010) šī darba oriģinālversijai, lai gūtu priekšstatu par vēlamo artikulāciju, dinamiku un frāzējumu; šie ir arī aranžētāja primārie avoti. Sekundārs avots ir Zariņa izdotais ieraksts šai aranžijai albumā "Undulations" (SKANi 2026). Paša Pelēča sniegtu informāciju par "Plaukstošā jasmīna" rašanos var iegūt albuma "Undulations" bukleta digitālajā versijā, kas publicēta skani.lv.
